A servant cirl of Mr. H. H. Rorsythe. In her 11th year; large swellings on the glamls, either side of the neck; one eve closed tight and fast more than four years; the other about half shut; one ancle much swollen, giving great pain. In addition to all this, she had more than half an inch of nail in the bottom of the foot for over two years; all of which had rendered necessed distressing, almost beyond human endurance. Her cries and screams were alarming to the neighborhood, the sent her to my house. I commenced giving her my medicines; in eight days the uail came out of the foot, in a lew weeks the lumps on the glands disappeared; her eyes opened; her ancle reduced to proper size; free from an pain. In about nine months she was well; for which I received one hundred dollars.

Again, with South as on President, the fuglity law may be repeated without belag met with an executive vote. Not so with Gen. Pierce in the executive chart. He will let its repeat because its principles "commanded the approbation of his judgment." Again, the democratic plettorin declares, in effect, that its repeat would be unconstitutional. Percessays that declaration is correct, and, believing this, he would be compelled to voolts repeat, if he paid any regard to his out. With then South in may be so amended as to give the fugitive at tall by jump-for the wing resolution is not infuncial to resid any change in the law whatever that will huptilist the dency, and honce he would veto such a bill.
